The following e-mail was sent to Council members listed above at 4:19 pm on Tuesday, July 22, 2014:

"Dear Council Members,

Dr. Radhika Rajagopal called Larry after she received an e-mail from the office advising her that the name Phoenix Rising Integrative Veterinary Care was not approved at the July 21 Council meeting.

She thought the Council meeting was taking place on Saturday, July 26 and therefore, booked a facility inspection for that date. They are trying to open the clinic and cannot wait until September. She is willing to drop the word "Integrative" from the facility name.

Pending her receiving approval of the BC Registry Services for the name: Phoenix Rising Veterinary Care, would you reconsider her request for name approval.

Please respond by e-mail: Vote yes or no to the following motion:

MOTION THAT Council reconsider the request for name approval by dropping the word 'Integrative' from the name and approve the name 'Phoenix Rising Veterinary Care' as a practice or practice facility name effective July 22, 2014 in accordance with s. 37 of the CVBC Bylaws. This is pending approval of the name by the BC Registry Services"

Responses were received from Dr. Barker, Dr. Shaw, Mr. Dewhirst and Dr. Matthews all in the affirmative. The Motion passed.
